

Using Social Media to Drive Business Value at New Balance

Goals: How can we use social media to increase brand loyalty, lead generation, ROI, and traffic?

Zachary D'Urso - Data Manager at New Balance

Enhancing Brand Loyalty using Social Media

- Engage with customers using social media platforms (ex: Instagram, Twitter (X), TikTok, YouTube, Facebook)
- Utilize athlete sponsorships and collaborative projects to strengthen brand identity and appeal (Josh Allen, Coco Gauff, Shohei Ohtani)
- Sentiment Analysis tools are useful in monitoring how customers feel about New Balance across social media platforms
- Gathered customer feedback, both positive and negative, can be analyzed and implemented to improve the overall customer experience and boost brand loyalty

Generating Leads through Targeted Marketing

- Special limited releases and athlete collaborations boost customer engagement (ex: Cooper Flagg, Cal Raleigh)
- Targeted ad campaigns via personalized marketing helps to increase customer sign-ups and loyalty and exclusive discounts provide a sales boost
- Potential customers can be identified through social media platforms through paid marketing campaigns to drive customer traffic (We Got Now campaign)

Driving Store and Website Traffic using Location Analytics

- Location analytics help New Balance to identify customers within a certain radius of a given physical store and target them with personalized ads
- Geo-targeted ads can be utilized to promote exclusive releases or store promotions/events that are potentially time-sensitive, adding excitement
- Campaigns help to increase physical store visits in specifically targeted areas
- Social media posts are linked right to the New Balance website to drive online traffic, promoting the online shop to customers with the click of a button
- Online engagement and a physical store presence are connected through the use of social media, increasing both revenue and traffic in combination

Evaluating Social Media as a Sound Investment

- New Balance's social media campaigns increase online traffic, sales, and positive brand-customer sentiment
- Sentiment analysis and location analytics improve campaign targeting and efficiency
- The higher the social media engagement, likely equals a stronger support of loyalty
- Social media allows for real-time customer sentiment and feedback about products, upcoming releases, special promotions, and new collaborations
- The revenue that social media generates significantly outweighs the costs to operate and implement these online campaigns
- Social media is a must for a company like New Balance, trying to stand out amongst its counterparts in an extremely competitive industry

References

Lovera, F., & Cardinale, Y. (2025). An analytics approach to extracting location and sentiment insights from classified social media data. Decision Analytics Journal.

<https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/pii/S2772662225000803>

Sharma, P. (2024, October 19). Sentiment analysis tools for social media analytics: Unlocking insights: The power of sentiment analysis tools in today's digital landscape. Analytics Insight.

<https://www.analyticsinsight.net/tech-news/sentiment-analysis-tools-for-social-media-analytics>